Hearing on rate increase by Group W Sept. 25

Group W Cable television is requesting a rate increase effective Sept. 1, and at next Tuesday evening's Sierra Madre City Council meeting a public hearing will be held in which the subject will be discussed both by council members and the community.

Anyone interested in speaking at the public hearing should attend this 7:30 p.m. meeting, Tuesday, Sept. 25.

In a hand-delivered letter to Jim McRea, Sierra Madre city administrator, the company suggests a rise in the monthly services and installation of basic services. The letter was sent by Joe Biolsi, general manager of Group W Cable, a New York-based company which is part of Westinghouse Broadcasting and Cable Inc.

— They request a 41% boost from $7.05 to $9.95 for basic service and a 216% jump from $1.25 to $3.95 for each basic additional outlet.

They wish to charge $19.95 for installation instead of $16.95 for up to three outlets to the company.

In another hand-delivered letter dated July 9 to City Administrator McRea, Biolsi says in part, "While the following charges are not regulated per our ordinance agreement, this notice is provided to the City to assure the smoothest of communications in implementing changes affecting Sierra Madre residents, and to keep the city fully informed at all times."

— Pay services per month are to be augmented by 18%, from $10.95 to $12.95.

— Additional outlets per each pay will rise 58%, from $2.50 to $3.95.

— F.M. service will realize a 136% rise, from $1.25 to $2.95.

— Satellite service tier will rise 439%, from 90 cents $3.95.

— Remote converters be lowered from $3 to $1 and additional remote outlets will remain the same at $1.

— Concerning installation, a trip charge for a required home visit to add or exchange pay service will rise 18%, from $16.95 to $19.95.

— The trip charge for a required visit to drop a pay service goes from zero to $19.95, a considerate boost in cost.

— Additional pay service drops to zero, however.

— The company is also offering incentives for cable clients to subscribe to multiple pay services.

In October of last year, Group W levied a charge of $3 for the converters which are imperative to the cable TV sets by each subscriber. Those same converters had been given to subscribers before that time, and both the city Council members and subscribers disagreed with Group W that this $3 charge was fair.

City Attorney Charles Martin (who now serves as special counsel to the city of Sierra Madre) declared that the charge was illegal.

At this point, that disagreement has not been resolved and a great number of subscribers have refused to pay that charge for nearly a year.

The Sierra Madre News was unable to reach either Mayor Tom Edwards or Vice-Mayor Charles Corp for a statement.

Salandra receives Award as alum from Kent State

Marie Salandra, former principal of Sierra Madre School, will receive the distinguished service award Sept. 28 as an honored alumna from her university, Kent State University in Kent, Oh.

The University Alumni Association, who will present the award at the homecoming luncheon that day, announces that this award is not given very often. Salandra is receiving the honor for her "remarkable achievements in education and (her) devoted service to the U.S. Olympic Committee in Los Angeles."

Two of Salandra's closest "college chums," Betty Moritz of Niles, Oh., and Mary Miller of Warren, Oh., will be guests of the university, also. Salandra went to high school in Niles. The Ohio women are cousins.

Also attending the function is Salandra's sister, Helen, who, Salandra says, is "the force behind it all."

Marie Salandra retired in 1983 after having been principal in Sierra Madre 12 years out of the 16 she served in that administrative role. She was also assistant principal for two years. Salandra taught in the Pasadena School System for 35 years.

Salandra was1983 grand marshal in the July 4 parade in Sierra Madre. The former principal received her training for the Olympics at UCLA and worked for a year helping interview and place people for the Olympics. She gave talks to motivate people to become volunteers.

Out of 1300 hostesses, she was one of 100 at the Biltmore Hotel. She was also one of 10 hostesses chosen to participate in the international press party at the Bonaventure.

She greeted people at the Grand Ave. entrance of the Biltmore, was in charge of the Olympics club room there and also greeted people coming to the Olympics at the airport. She escorted a West German dignitary to the L.A. Mayor's party.

Salandra was first assigned to the boxing venue and quickly learned the points used to judge that sport. She says she told officials, "Put me anywhere, but not in the ring." Soon, however, they reassigned her to the Biltmore as hostess and she drew a sad face and said, "I hated to leave boxing." Then she grinned.

Since retirement, Salandra has been busy learning to make lemon meringue pies in a microwave oven and is busy on several civic boards. She shook her head and admitted that there was still no time to sing, as she had promised. While back east, she will visit her sister, Agnes, in Shreveport, La.

Rose Float has meeting Sept. 24

According to Ginny Liskow, president of the Sierra Madre Rose Float Association, the general meeting Monday, Sept. 24, at city hall at 8 p.m. promises to be "an interesting and informative evening for all."

Tom McIntyre, Pasadena Tournament of Roses, will present "Countdown," a film which tells the story from behind the scenes, explaining what it is like to produce the Tournament parade.

Following the film, Cynthia and Tensie Benson will give a short presentation on their flowering plan for Sierra Madre's 1985 float.

Everyone is invited to attend the meeting.

Haque, Kirk are new board members at health center

Irshad Ul-Haque, who has a business in Sierra Madre, and Mattie Kirk, who lives in Sierra Madre, have been appointed to the board of Sierra Madre Community Health Care Center.

Haque, who lives in San Marino and is president of Bantam and Associates, came to Sierra Madre in 1974. He founded the real estate investment and property management company 10 years ago and at the present time the company manages 100 apartment buildings and condominimums all over the San Gabriel Valley.

His wife, Linda, as manager of the brokerage office in Pasadena. The firm expanded to that city a year ago.

Haque was born and raised in Lahore, Pakistan. After graduation from high school in Pakistan, he came to the United States in 1960 to attend school and graduated from USC with a business degree. The Haques met at USC and were married soon after.

They lived in Arcadia until three years ago when they moved to San Marino. They have three children: Aisha, 16, and Mariam, 12, who were born at Sierra Madre Hospital before it was converted to a health care center. They both attended Poly-Techni in Pasadena. A third child, Alyia, 8, was born at Methodist Hospital of Southern California. She attends Town and Country Day School in Pasadena.

Mattie Kirk, the other board member, was born and raised in the Pittsburgh, Pa. area, and she and her husband, Dr. Henry Kirk, came to San Gabriel, Calif. in 1966. They moved to Redondo Beach after that and migrated to Sierra Madre in October, 1981.

Kirk received her college education, a B.S. in human relations organization behavior, at the University of San Francisco.

She is currently assistant vice-president for training and development at California Federal, located in Rosemead at the computer facility. She has been in the information system technology profession for 18 years.

Kirk is married to Dr. Henry Kirk, vice-president of educational services and assistant to the president, Dr. John Casey, at Pasadena City College.

The new board member will speak Oct. 4 to the Nippon Administrative Management Association in Tokyo, Japan, on "Attracting, Developing and Utilizing Data Processing Professionals in the U.S.A." She is one of two Americans invited. Two Chinese will also speak at the convention.

Dr. Hank Kirk will assist in the lecture, telling the story of community colleges and their contribution in preparing students for jobs in business

And the people outside are not clamoring to get in." He signs it "Puzzled" then says: "P.S. Don't use my name. I wouldn't want Sam Simpson to get mad at me."

Helen Ford joins local health center as administrator

Helen Ford of Downey, controller at Methodist Hospital of Southern California, Arcadia, was appointed administrator at Sierra Madre Health Care Center recently. She is spending three-fourths of her time in Sierra Madre and one-fourth at Methodist Hospital until things get "up to speed," she says.

Helen Ford

"Once it's up and running, the Sierra Madre facility won't need a full-time administrator," Ford told The News this week, and at that point she will divide her time equally between the two facilities.

Ford was born and raised in Downey and graduated from UC Irvine with a BS in biology as a pre-med student. She worked at a skilled nursing facility in Long Beach for her internship for nursing home administrator and then obtained her license in the field.

She moved over to Methodist Hospital in 1981 as cost accountant, then became internal auditor. Soon she was elevated to business office manager and finally became controller.

Her basic concern is for the patient. "Everything else is secondary," she says. "I look forward to the challenge and am surely glad that the

Administrator urges 'no' vote on Prop 41

By Richard A. Hachten, II
President and Administrator of Methodist Hospital of Southern California

In making an intelligent decision concerning your vote on Proposition 41, you must be aware that its passage would severely affect the medi-Cal program, reducing its benefits in the first year alone by $1 billion.

These reductions cannot be made without severely cutting health care services to the aged, blind, and disabled, for whom fully two-thirds of all Medi-Cal expenditures are made. In addition, significant reductions would be made in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children Program.

Your "no" vote on Proposition 41 will help prevent these devastating effects to the welfare of our friends and neighbors in Sierra Madre and throughout the state.

Check rules for safety

Sending children back to school this fall can be a relief after a long summer of ice cream stains and poison ivy. But it can also be an added worry. Especially when you consider National Safety Council statistics which show that each year, approximately 1600 school-age children die, and 15,000 are injured in traffic-related accidents between home and school.

The following safety tips should be discussed with your children:

— Always obey traffic police, school patrol members, and traffic signals.

— Walk on the sidewalk, not on the street or curb. If you must walk in the road, walk facing on coming traffic. And when walking in a group, walk single file.

— Watch out for moving cars hidden by stopped cars. Don't step from behind a parked car since approaching traffic can't see you start across.

— When crossing a street, always look both ways, cross quickly and always at right angles rather than diagonally. Always cross at an intersection or crosswalk.

— When walking after dark, wear something reflective or light colored and carry a flashlight.

— Don't chase anybody or anything into the street.

— Never ride on the handlebars of anyone's bicycle.

— Walk, don't ride your bicycle across intersections and crosswalks.

If your child takes the school bus, here are some additional reminders.

— Wait for a signal from the bus driver or crossing guard if you must cross the road to get on or off your bus. Then double check for yourself before crossing.

— Go straight to your seat when you get on the bus. Don't linger in the aisles.

— Stay seated until the bus stops.

— Obey the bus driver and avoid loud talking or kidding that may distract him or her.

— Keep your head, arms, and hands inside the windows at all times.

Have you played Trivial Pursuit?

That's a game with 40,000 questions and 35,000 of them are about Beaver Cleaver.

It's a fun game.

It's gotten brawling out of the barrooms and into the homes where it belongs.

I love it when families get together and fight over a television show that went off the air 28 years ago.

You may call it Trivial Pursuit; at our house it's more like "Family Feud."

Of course the kind of money we play for it's no longer trivial.

My wife bought me the deluxe model. It comes with a dunce's cap.

It's fun to gather around the kitchen table and realize what a dumb family you are.

That game gets me a little annoyed. I'm older than most of the questions.

Besides, I don't like people taking the best years of my life and calling them trivial.

Don't ever play it with Zsa Zsa Gabor. She's been married to half of the questions.

She gets most of her pies as alimony.

It's a silly game. They want me to remember what happened 30 years ago, and I can't even remember what I had for breakfast.

dog population back in the Midwest. How different that is from our blossoming coyote problem, as well as the increase in the number of rattlesnakes, seen on these dry weather days.

I was also reminded of how much pheasant we ate in the Midwest during pheasant season. My father called the same dish "prairie chicken" the rest of the year.

● Bill Goudy, 18, son of Jean and Joe Goudy of Sierra Madre, underwent back surgery at Arcadia Methodist Hospital Wednesday. Think of him — send cards, if possible. He hopes to be back home Sunday.

She is originally from Aurora and is now visiting her daughter and family, Karen and Stephen De Smet and Eric, 3, here in Sierra Madre. Avis is expecting her second grandchild, the De Smet's second child, the first of the year, and is visiting here from the mountains in Sequoia. She tells us she came out to California in 1936. She has another daughter, Linda Jordan, in Beverly Hills.

● Marie Salandra says she misses the school children "terribly." Marie was in the school business for a lot of years and retired a year ago as principal of Sierra Madre School.

An open letter to the Volunteer Firemen

I cannot begin to find enough words to express my love and gratitude to all you wonderful fellows.

George and all the other medics were always there in a hurry to help in every way during Charlie's illness. I hope everyone in Sierra Madre realizes how fortunate we are to have these wonderful men give us free ambulance and rescue service.

You are truly a wonderful group of fellows. So loyal and helpful to your members in need. I will never be able to thank you enough for all you fellows have done for Charlie and me during his illness the past 17 months.

The love you had for Charlie when he was here always meant so much to both of us. The love you showed for him in the beautiful tribute you gave him will always remain with me and help me through the trying days ahead.

I am writing this to the Sierra Madre News because I want the whole town to know what a great group of devoted men you are and how lucky we are to have such wonderful caring people to help us all in time of need.

Gratefully and humbly yours,
Marjorie Peterson

Thanks to all who preserve town

I would like to thank Hugh Campbell, Harry Martin, and all the others who rescued our "welcome" sign recently, as reported in the Aug. 23 issue of The News.

I remember when that sign was new (the first time), and it's nice to know that others share my fondness for the things that are sometimes taken for granted, because they have been there so long. It is these very things, like our Sierra Madre sign, Roess Market (a big "thank you" to the new owner for preserving the name and the character of our home-town market!), the old City Hall; Sierra Madre School, that make our little town unique. It also means "home" to so many of us who have left it physically, but carry it in our hearts as we travel the world.

Reader urges to write lawmakers about 'Genocide Convention'

How President Reagan could endorse that old fraud called the Genocide Convention — which defines "genocide" quite differently from the dictionary — I don't know.

However, it is clear that if this treaty is ratified by the U.S. Senate, then by definition the telling of a simple ethnic joke could be construed as committing genocide, and you would then be tried in a United Nations court in a foreign country.

The dictionary definition of genocide is "the deliberate extermination of a national or racial group." But the Genocide Convention further defines genocide as "causing serious bodily or mental harm" to members of any "national, ethnical, racial, or religious group." This vague, expanded definition could subject anyone to the charge of "genocide." Just what is "mental harm?"

For some strange reason, our country is criticized for not ratifying the Convention. But have we ever committed genocide? No! To the contrary, the Soviet Union signed the treaty years ago, yet they are perhaps the biggest perpetrators of genocide around the globe. They keep millions of people enslaved in their brutal Commnist tyranny; they clamp down on uprisings in Poland; they use biological and chemical warfare against the freedom fighters in Afghanistan; and they recently aided the Sandinistas in slaughtering roughly 1000 Miskito Indians in Nicaragua. What hypocrisy!

Let President Reagan and your Senators know that you want our country to have no part of this dangerous and ridiculous Genocide Convention.

Upset that 'progress' destroys old homes

Reaction to L. Snelling's response to the article about the Jamison estate:

It is sad that Sierra Madre is proceeding to destroy what is attractive and makes our town unique.

Do we need a watchdog to check such progress as the Jamison property development? With so little vacant land left in this community, I've noticed that when land is developed, they crowd 4 or 5 houses where previously one home had been.

I was born, and have lived, in this community all my sixty-four years, so naturally, I've developed a proprietary sense concerning the good things in my hometown, so may I say there needs to be an end to such development.

Tips, Tales & Tantalizers

Actors are a very superstitious group. We all know the saying "break a leg" before an actor goes on stage, is actually a good luck wish.

But did you know that during intermissions a play actor will traditionally retire to the "greenroom" to relax. The room is always decorated in green or shades of green. Relaxing in a room of green is thought by actors to keep mischievous spirits from ruining their performance. (Mischievous spirits don't care for the green color.)

Green has always been a relaxing color. Take for example the greeness of spring grass, or the various shades of green of all growing things . . . especially trees that lift their branches upwards toward the sky. Mischievous spirits certainly don't want to interfere with God's plan to make things grow to become more beautiful. And heavens knows, what would happen to such a spirit if he was caught causing havoc or chaos to an actor while the actor was in the green room.

One bit of advice that everyone should know, though: while actors retreat to the green room for relaxing, 99% of the time they will not wear the color green, simply because it doen't have the same effect.

Of course, I could tell you that the color green first arrived from the imps and elves who live beneath the soil, sharing their peaceful color with us all. But you wouldn't believe me. Although, I could argue and ask you just why the Irish believe in the mysterious color of green as a good luck charm. Maybe it has something to do with actors retreating to the green room. Or just maybe, perhaps , it has to do with the lucky green shamrock. Oh, but that's another story in itself. I'll save that one for St. Patrick's Day.

In the meantime, I'll just have to accept the story of the green room, and you can count your lucky shamrock for that!

Town is hit by freak storm

Sierra Madre was hit by a sudden, quite violent rain and wind storm mid-afternoon Sunday and parts of the town did not have resumption of electricity until the following day.

A spokesman for the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Dept. said they first heard news of the storm from the L.A. County Fire Dept. at about 3:15 p.m., then about five minutes later Monrovia reported the storm. Moments later it hit Sierra Madre.

According to Police Chief Bill Betts, the first power outages occurred before 3:30 p.m.

The fire department made 14 runs because of cables and electric wires being down, with the first outage on N. Grand View west of Baldwin where there was a pole-to-pole line fire. Calls came in quite rapidly after that one, the fire department spokesman said.

Later in the day there was a brisk fire in a palm tree caused by electric arcing at 40 S. Michllinda. There were no reports of injuries, just lines down. The storm lasted barely an hour and there was an unofficial report that the wind got up to about 50 mph.

Police Chief Betts said damage was relatively light even though much of the community was without electricity and all of it was without cable television service the rest of the day. Electricity was resumed in about four hours in some parts of the town while other parts had no electricity for about 10 hours.

Leaves, small limbs and fruits were down in abundance, and swimming pools were full of debris.

Princess hopefuls urged to sign up

Next Saturday, Sept. 22, or Saturday, Sept. 29, are the time to sign up to be considered as one of the princesses to ride Sierra Madre's 1985 float in the Rose Parade.

Girls must be residents of Sierra Madre and be between 16 and 18 years of age.

To share in this excitement and be representatives of your community for the whole world, come to the City Hall on Saturday between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. If you are absolutely not able to come in person, call Helen Walker, 355-6250.

P and R meeting changed to Sept. 24

The regular meeting of the Parks and Recreation Commission scheduled for Monday, Sept. 17, will instead be held on Monday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Conference Room of City Hall, 232 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. All business originally scheduled for Sept. 17, 1984 will be considered at the meeting of Sept. 24.

HOW SALT CAN DAMAGE YOUR CLOTHING

By Joe Delgatto

Strange is the thing in front of our nose which we learn to ignore and not recognize for what it is.

Who ordinarily thinks of perspiration as salt?

Yet we all know that this is true, that one of the principal components of honest sweat — is salt.

So it naturally follows that all clothing subject to contact with perspiration will also be subject to whatever harm salt can produce in fabric or dye.

Here's the whole thing in a nutshell:

Perspiration is destructive to your clothes. While we've mentioned to you umpteen times that to clean soon after staining is the very soul of wisdom, in few regards is this more important than the case of perspiration stains.

In short, don't let your dresses acquire underarm rings before you bring them in.

We suggest, instead, that you take action pronto and CALL OR BRING THEM TO

Two Episcopalians trade lives

By Joan Biersch

"I felt as if I were part of Thomas Gray's, 'Elergy Written in a Country Churchyard'," said the Rev. Canon Spencer Edwards of his first duty as The Vicar of Wakefield, England. Not only did he conduct a funeral service during his two-month stay, but also a wedding and a baptism, using the 1662 Prayer Book. "It's the only official Prayer Book of England," he added.

Fr. Edwards and his wife, Betty, run the Gooden School in Sierra Madre and are members of the Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration in Arcadia where he assists The Rev. William Daum.

Looking for a trade situation, the Edwards advertised in The Church Times, which circulates throughout the United Kingdom. A call came at about 2 a.m. from the Rev. Ray Adair of Wakefield. It seemed he was too excited about the prospect of coming to California to think about the time difference. Though they received 22 responses to their ad, they were drawn to the Adairs' enthusiasm over the idea.

The couples traded homes, cars and duties. "Their home was very large and gracious," said Betty, "but they apologized for it being only 100 years old." The Edwards settled into their English lifestyle easily, but found driving the car a test of perseverance.

While Ray Adair was conducting some services at The Church of the Transfiguration in Arcadia, Spencer Edwards was conducting similar trial services at St. Catherine's in Wakefield, an industrial and coal mining town located in West Yorkshire, the heartland of England. "It's a small, active parish in a renewal neighborhood," stated Edwards. "The people look out for each other. They care for one another."

The Edwards arranged to have one Sunday off during their stay to give themselves two weeks to travel through England and Scotland. They made frequent overnight, as well as day, trips to visit schools, cathedrals and castles. Also, they boat toured the lake at Blenheim Palace, Stratford on Avon, The Thames, The Lochness (sans monster) and the largest lake of all, Windermere.

"What impressed me most of all?" Betty hesitated. "The history is dazzling. One school we visited was 710 years old; our school has existed exactly 10 years."

They found the school children disciplined and always dressed formally in uniform, and they noted a large number of Pakistani children. However, a bilingual program was nonexistant. Instead, there was an emphasis in English, with extra help provided.

The most stirring event they attended was a service in Wakefield Cathedral commemorating The Battle of Britain. According to Fr. Edwards, there were only 40 planes left to defend the country. It was the low point of the war of which Winston Churchill had so eloquently spoken. Following the ceremony, the Edwards enjoyed lunching with the Mayoress of Wakefield.

Unforgettable to Betty and Spencer were the Roman ruins they found scattered all over the country. Both felt fortunate to observe at night the well-lit excavations of the Roman baths in Bath and to walk Hadrian's Wall on the narrow waist of England.

Canon Edwards was especially interested in the cathedrals, viewing each as a cross between a tourist attraction and a church of worship. Visiting cathedrals, he met and became acquainted with many Anglican Canons who come from all over Britain to serve as guides. "They do an excellent job," he said, enthused.

Betty spoke of the new shopping mall in Wakefield and likened it to the Plaza Pasadena. She said it was especially needed in the winter month for cover, and it also provides for parking, which is a mounting problem since the North Sea oil discoveries. Because of England making its own petrol now, it seemed to her that everyone has a car or is saving to buy one, so traffic and parking are becoming more and more difficult.

As a point of local interest, Betty told of visiting a stately home where, in order to pay a recent death tax, the best of its library had been sold to the Huntington Library in San Marino.

A week before the Edwards departed, Fr. Adair returned to Wakefield very much impressed with the Episcopal Church in America, and especially The Church of the Transfiguration.

"He wants a choir and acolytes and all the things he saw done in the Arcadia Church," grinned Fr. Edwards. "And he wants to return. Already they are talking about a parish fieldtrip to California. But, the pound is bad." He paused, then added, "Maybe Betty and I will have to be the ones to return. There is a lot left to see."

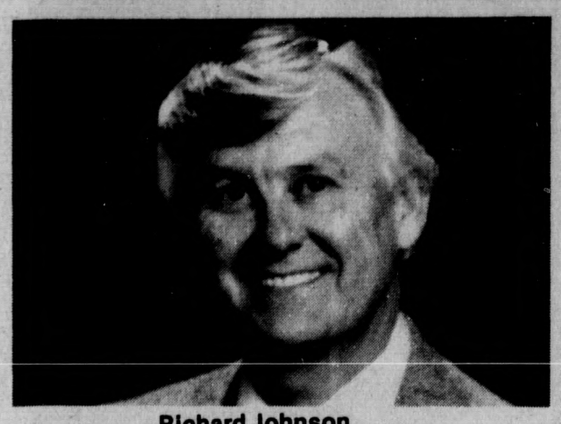
Officers to be introduced at meeting



Richard Johnson

Gold! With that one discovery, the character of the slumbering giant that had been California was changed forever.

The Sierra Madre Historical Society invites everyone to their annual meeting, Monday, Oct. 1, 7:30 p.m. when Chester Anderson presents a talk, "Romance of the Gold Rush," at Essick House, the Woman's Clubhouse, 550 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

The Historical Society will introduce their new board members at this meeting. Richard Johnson, new president, is an engineer. He and his wife Elva are long-time Sierra Madre residents and long-time members of the Historical Society. Their 1881 home, beautifully restored by them and enjoyed by their five children as they were growing up, was the location of last year's Historical Society's Old Fashioned Sunday Afternoon Social.

Anderson, along with his very active legal life and civic and community service, is a dedicated historian of the California Gold Rush. His intimate knowledge has been gained during many explorations of Gold Rush country, studying many diaries written by the miners and interviewing a number of old timers.

Other members serving on the board are: Leigh Talmo, first vice-president; Helen Walker, recording secretary; Judy Reib, corresponding secretary; and Ray and Helen Obazawa, co-treasurers. New members of the board of trustees are Paul Tate and Bill Huse.

Aries (March 20 - April 19) — Watch your emotions when concerning yourself with social and individual justice. You may be easily outraged when you see someone getting the short end of the stick.

Taurus (April 19 - May 20) — Your view of life should expand, and you should become increasing tolerant of the wide differences among people in the world. You have the opportunity to become a man or woman of the world to a much greater extent.

Gemini (May 20 - June 20) — If others do not acknowledge you openly, you may feel cheated and go on to assume the station and privilege that you think you deserve. Be careful of total downfall.

Cancer (June 20 - July 22) — This is not a good time to be alone. You are in the mood for relating, and the week will not be complete in any way unless you share it. This is a time to be aware of how much your completeness depends upon others.

Leo (July 22 - August 22) — It is a time to enjoy what is around you every day. You feel affectionate, and under certain circumstances, you may meet a new lover, probably in your home surroundings.

Virgo (August 22 - September 22) — Keep your mind occupied with ideas that are significant and meaningful to you. If you don't you will fasten your attention upon some insignificent matter until you have analyzed it to death.

Libra (September 22 - October 22) — If you are married, your marriage should work better than usual now. You and your partner will be anxious to help each other grow and to further each other's interests.

Scorpio (October 22 - November 21) — You now may have an opportunity to smooth out any difficulties that have arisen recently in your close relationships. You can make it clear to others that your real objective is to improve relations, not merely win an argument.

Sagittarius (November 21 - December 21) — Avoid any situation that will place undue stress upon your body, because you don't have the resistance that you usually have. Infections and fevers are a possibility if you let your body get run down.

Capricorn (December 21 - January 20) — You are not the tyoe to be tied down intellectually or emotionally, so you must have a partner who respects your freedom, and that respect will bring you closer to your lover. True freedom and equality bring a closeness, a mingling of mind and body that can't be attained in any other way.

Aquarius (January 20 - February 19) — You are capable of expansive desire and can receive generous amounts of loving without tiring or finding that it cloys. For this reason, you may be able to entertain several love relationships at the same time without being physically or emotionally exhausted.

Pices (February 19 - March 20) — The longer you pursue a relationship, the more self-aware you will become. Your partner will teach you about aspects of yourself that you did not understand and bring you to a high level of emotional self-understanding.

Woman's Club fall program

The historic Essick House will be the setting for the Sierra Madre Woman's Club's annual membership tea, set for Wednesday, Sept. 26, at 2 p.m., as the opening event for the club's fall program of public service, education and special events.

Women of the area who are interested in club fellowship and community service are invited to attend the tea which will feature Greg Golden, noted young pianist, as well as refreshments, according to Martha Van De Verg, program chairman for the club.

For the Oct. 10 luncheon meeting for members and guests, Dr. John Talevich will present a discussion on "Women's Health."

The club's popular annual Sierra Madre fall festival is slated for Saturday, Oct. 20, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at Essick House, where hand-crafted holiday gifts and home-baked delicacies will be offered for sale, together with a sandwich and soup bar.

All interested voters are welcome to attend a discussion of state ballot measures which will be before the electorate in November, presented by Dr. Gary Adams at the club's Oct. 24 tea meeting, 2 p.m., at Essick House. The ballot discussions are presented twice each election year by the club as part of its public education program.

The club's traditional Indian in-gathering of food and clothing for destitute First Americans in the Los Angeles area will take place at the Thanksgiving luncheon on Nov. 14. The program, entitled "Indians of the Southwest — Life In An Arid Land," will be presented by Peter Welch, curator of the Southwest Museum. Donations of food, clothing, toys, books and other useable items from the community are welcomed.

On Nov. 20 at 8 a.m., the club will host the 10th annual All-Faith Community Prayer Breakfast at Essick House. The breakfast is open to all friends and neighbors in the community and is provided at no charge by the club as part of its public service program. Ministers of all churches in Sierra Madre are invited to attend the fellowship event.

The club's Christmas program, set for the Dec. 12 luncheon, will feature the San Gabriel Valley Chorus, with a program of Christmas music.

The club, comprised of over 100 women of Sierra Madre and the surrounding area, is dedicated to public service, education and philanthropy. It is a member of the California and General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Inquiries regarding various events, activities and club membership are welcomed by club president Freda Bernard, 793-3028, or membership chairman Lillian Eilers, 355-9146.

born into the community and not soon to be forgotten! His wonderful family was raised in the house where I lived, briefly, as a baby.

As his dear friend and his wife's "close cousin," I was going to attempt to write a personalized eulogy to "Daddy Pete." As I made preliminary notes and quotations regarding this man, I soon realized that I could write pages upon pages of anecdotes, memorabilia and personal experiences related to our many years of friendship.

I then realized, that each and every one of us friends who knew Charlie have similar and very close memories of him in varying aspects of personal regard. And I do mean "personal regard" in that he influenced many people in many ways! I am sure all of his many friends will remember Charlie in many different ways. So, who am I to try to classify "Pete" into a catagory to fit all?

Charlie touched a helluva lota' lives in a helluva lota' ways! We all love you for this!

Most affectionately, I loved his characterization of being "Penny-Pinching-Peterson." Through our prayers, I'm letting him know that when I reach the Pearly Gates, I'll have a 1912 silver dollar (his birth year) to deposit into his parking meter (an inside joke) so I may visit him.

May he rest in peace as we all remember him, each with our own very special memories. I'm especially glad we had a short visit recently in Santa Fe, N.M.

Goodby, ole' buddy.

Lefeber presents Gallery 8 show

Connie Lefeber, longtime resident of Upper Hastings Ranch, will present a showing of her Chinese brush painting at the Gallery 8, East Pacific Asia Museum, 48 North Las Robles, Pasadena. The display will run from Sept. 19 to Sept. 30, with a reception being held on Sunday, Sept. 23 from 2 to 5 p.m.

Connie is a member and former officer of Las Companeras.

UHRA plans Nov. 7 meeting, picks winners

The Upper Hastings Ranch Association annual meeting will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 7 at Don Benito School. Chairperson Karen Grindstaff says the meeting will have an Olympic theme. Announcements will be made about new board members, Resident of the Year Award and scholarship winners.

This year at that meeting, the Upper Hastings Ranch Association will present eight scholarships of $300 each to qualifying college students after the drawing. The requirements for eligibility for each applicant are as follows: (1) resident of Upper Hastings Ranch; (2) current college attendance; and (3) grade point average of 3.0 or higher.

The UHRA scholarship program started in 1980 when three awards of $250 each were given. This number was increased to four scholarships in 1981 and 1982, and six in 1983. This year eight students will each receive $300.

Las Comps choose officers

On Wednesday, Sept. 5, the ladies of Las Companeras met for luncheon at the Women's City Club of Pasadena with Shirley Livingston as guest speaker who discussed accessory decorating.

Las Companeras officers and chairmen for 1984-1985 are as follows: vice-presidents: Lenore Carrol, Denise Newhouse and Doris Henry; secretary: Margo Grube; treasurer: Donna Bailey; membership: Stella Dietrich; friendship: Sheron Hanson; and photographer, Evie Shaw.

The "Las Comps" annual fall event will be a "County Fair" party held at the home of Bill Owen on Saturday, Sept. 22.

Faith Lutheran

O Lord, our God, we come to You with hearts filled with gratitude and praise. For the light of another day, we give You thanks. For making us Your children through Christ, we praise Your holy name. For giving us Your Word as a source of our joy, accept our praise. Keep us united in the faith that we may carry out our responsibilities with greater cheerfulness. Help us to find the meaning of our life by being more willing to lose it in Your service. Bless our nation with righteousness and peace. Be a source of strength to the weak and restore hope to the hopeless. For the sake of Jesus, Who denied Himself so that He might suffer for us on the cross, Amen.

You are invited to join us for worship this Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

From Behind the Wire

by Ed Colucci

Are the PHS Bulldogs that good or did the Golden Knights of St. Francis have a bad night? I think coach Gary Griffiths has some kind of team. He had everyone on the field plus the bench keying on Allan Grant of St. Francis. What also killed the Knights was a 66-yard bomb from McBride to Thomas in the second quarter. So now the woofers are 2 and 0 going into the third week.

All the locals were in the stands and John McCoy that "Great Greek" soccer player was right next to us. Big John was a punt returner when he was in high school and that's when he decided to switch to soccer.

On the other side of town, Arcadia still seems to be having their problems. They lost their second in a row last Friday night. The Titans of San Marino stopped them in a lackluster game. There are still a few teams left in the Apache schedule that will get a scalping.

Last Sunday night was the last night for the "A" league of women's softball, but the late afternoon storm and blackout caused a postponement of all the games.

It's going to take a whole mountaintop full of baldheaded, cross-legged gurus to figure out who is going to be the top guys in the PAC 10 this year. Only Arizona has two conference wins and everyone else has been playing light weights and just getting by. The Bruins thought they were playing the Chicago Bears in the Long Beach State game. The 49ers gave UCLA all they wanted and more in the Rose Bowl. And now coach Terry Donahue is going to do some playbook research for the Cornhusker game. USC had a bye this week.

Too bad the Boston College Eagles are not in the Big Ten. I'd like to see them play our guys in the Rose Bowl game on Jan. 1.

Our local high school, Maranatha, was involved in a strange game last week. The total points scored in the game was only four points. It seems that Maranatha was sacked in their own endzone twice for two points each time and so they lost to LA Baptist four - zip.

While we were over in Glendale, Sacramento City College was betting back at R.C.C. for what they did to them last year. SAC-City was going for 35 wins in a row when PCC knocked them off. Listening to the game on the radio; PCC had just scored a T.D. but missed the P.A.T. that would have tied the game. After that, it was all down hill and they will have to wait for another year to get at them again.

Red Hots start soccer season

Who remembers the Red Hots? We do. And they are back at it again this 1984-85 season.

The Red Hots soccer team was established over 10 years ago by Cliff Lewis. The team was the power of girls' AYSO for the San Gabriel Valley, and year after year won championships in team play and all-star competition. They won the AYSO All-Star state trophies in 1981 and 1983 and were runners-up in 1980 and 1982.

This year the team will play in the under-19 age group even though the squad has predominately 16-year-old juniors in high school. The team of 18 is represented by the cities of Arcadia, Monrovia, Pasadena and Temple City.

This year's team is affiliated with the Santa Anita Soccer Club and has elected to play in the Coast Soccer League which is headquartered in Orange County. They will be doing battle with clubs from Alta Loma, Claremont, North Huntington Beach, Mission Viejo, Orange County and Anaheim.

The team is coached by John Garton and Jim Gorjans. Members include Nyangu Chipembere, Nancy Feghali, Cassie Garton, Andi Gillette, Vickie Gilliland, Jodi Kaplan, Kris Keeler, Colleen McDonaldn, Caryn McNamee, Laure O'Neill, Stacy Renko, Cari Sexton, Marlo Simaan, Patti Smaldino, Lori Sutherland, Laurel Wallace, Julie Woodbury and Michelle Woodward.

Over Labor Day, the Westminster Lions defeated the Red Hots 4 to 1. The JUSA United Angels defeated the Red Hots 2 to 0, but the local team won their first game later that weekend against the USA Condors (San Diego) 1 to 0. Then the winner of the tournament, Frontier Shamrocks, defeated the Red Hots 1 to 0. The Red Hots lost 4 to 0 to Mission Viejo.

On Sept. 15 the Red Hots hosted the Celtics, a team from North Huntington Beach, at La Salle School and won their first league match, 2 to 0.

The next contest is Sept. 19, 11 a.m. at Mt. Sac against Orange County Express.

You will be hearing more about the Red Hots on this page.

Lawn Bowling starts Oct. 1 in Arcadia

Men and women of all ages are urged to join a beginners' class in lawn bowling to start 10 a.m. Monday, Oct. 1, at Arcadia County Park, according to Carl Pearson, training chairman of Santa Anita Bowling Green Club.

"We furnish the equipment for those learning the game," said Arcadian Pearson, also this year's men's single champion of the 225-member club. "The only requirement is that you wear proper flat-soled shoes on the greens."

President Robert Lietz of Alhambra pointed out the decision to join the club doesn't have to be made until the training course on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays is completed. Thirty persons had expressed interest in the new class early in September.

The club has social events in addition to daily bowling and opportunities to participate in club tourneys, league competition and visits to the many other clubs in Southern California.

For advance information, Pearson may be called at 447-7137. Current members come from as far as San Fernando Valley, the Pomona area — and from Monterey Park to the south. Address: 405 S. Santa Anita Ave., Arcadia — just south of Huntington Drive.
